

Labs — Multi AI Agents Workflow for Content Creation

TGS-2023036153 · 14 labs · one firm, one content studio of agents.

The scenario

Rachel Goh founded Horizon Wealth Planning in 2010. Fifteen years and 1,200 clients later, almost every new client still comes through a referral — and referrals are slowing. Younger Singaporeans look for money help on LinkedIn, Facebook, YouTube and in their inbox, and Horizon is invisible there.

In October 2026 Rachel sets a goal: 40 booked free chats a month by March 2027, without hiring a marketing team. She has three planners, a part-time marketing executive (Jun Wei), S$4,000 a month — and AI agents.

You are her content studio for the next two days:

Research — who to reach, the numbers, the competition (Cowork sub-agents)

Build — the website every post points to (Codex)

Plan — ideas, storyboard, personas, cadence, skills (Cowork)

Create — social, newsletter and video teams (Claude agent teams)

Run — always-on agent bots, measured and governed (Hermes, Cowork)

Every lab starts from what the previous lab produced. Financial content is regulated, so a person approves every piece before it goes out. The data is fictitious but internally consistent, and every email address resolves to your own inbox.

Before you start

- Claude desktop app on a Pro plan or above (Claude Cowork, Claude Code) and the Claude Code CLI for agent teams (Labs 9-11).
- ChatGPT desktop app on a plan that includes Codex (Labs 2, 3, 8, 11).
- Hermes Agent with a trainer-issued API key (Labs 12-13).
- Node.js 22, Python 3 with Pillow, ffmpeg, Git and a GitHub account.
- A personal Google account for Gmail; optional LinkedIn, Facebook Page, YouTube and Telegram accounts for live publishing.
- One working folder, horizon-studio, from Lab 1 to Lab 14. Copy each lab's assets/ into horizon-studio/data/.

Safety

Use only this lab's synthetic data and your own accounts. Never paste a real API key, password, token or client data into a prompt or a file — tokens live only in .env. Every email address in the data must resolve to your own inbox. Nothing is published or sent without a person approving that exact version.
